University Expo

Thank you to all representatives who attended Amber education UK Expo on the 10th of November at Westbury Hotel. We all had a fantastic time getting to know all of you. This was overall a brilliant opportunity for international students to get to know their future universities, subjects and how to strengthen their application process for certain courses. We believe that you all inspired students that day with your great knowledge upon your universities.

Amber is honoured to have such supporting representatives attending the expo. We hope that we can strengthen our relationship further in the future.

Looking Ahead:

Amber Education UK will be holding another university expo on February 9th, 2019. Do not miss this golden opportunity and come join Amber and 10 other universities. For more details, get in touch with: marketing@amberedu.co.uk

University of Kent

Thank you to University of Kent which invited us to visit its campus from 21 to 23 November. Bianca enjoyed this fruitful conference. Luckily, she saw graduation ceremony was held in the historic Canterbury Cathedral when she visited the Cathedral and the city Centre.

During the conference, she visited various teaching building and learnt more about different programmes such as Actuarial science, Architecture and LLM.

Its Actuarial Science is Top 3 in the UK. The programmes are fully accredited by IFOA. After completed these programmes, students can get exemptions from correspond professional exams and get the qualification sooner than other people who try to pass the professional exams during their work. MSc International Master's in Applied Actuarial Science impressed Bianca most as it does NOT require students study Actuarial Science before. It is designated for those studied in mathematics, statistics or economics and want to apply mathematics into Business industry.

One thing must be mentioned is that its teaching building is one of the nation's best new buildings which recognised by the Royal Institute of British Architects (RIBA). Studying Actuarial Science in this building makes the students feel relax.

If your students are interested, we are more than welcome to assist you for applications.
You could enjoy EARLY BIRD discount if the deposit is paid by April 2019 for most courses.

Bishopstrow College

Our guardian coordinator, Tiffany visited Bishopstrow College and was welcomed with such lovely educationalists who have such a passion for teaching and looking after students. The school itself had a safe, warm and fun learning environment. The prime concept of the school's curriculum is to strengthen the student's communication skills, English and cultural awareness. Tiffany was very lucky to have met a couple of students who had left the school and often come back to visit. The students who leave the school all have such a grateful attachment to the teachers and the school itself. Students who leave Bishopstrow is not only able to be in a classroom with native speakers but being able to compete academically at all levels. The school has a clear and concise routine, which enables students to strive academically and socially within a bigger school environment such as universities. Culture is a big part of the school, every Sunday the students are taken to areas around England such as Southampton, London, trips to the beach and coastal walking, Oxford, Salisbury, Bristol, and Bath etc. In order to give the students a wider look upon life in the UK and teach them about history. All the teachers are friendly and caring and cater their teaching to individual students. With such an experience orientated and academic thriving school, when it comes to moving onto other schools or university, the students often have such strong experiences to put down on their personal statements in applying for university. Thank you Bishopstrow for inviting Amber Guardianship to the school, we fully enjoyed our time with you.

Cardiff Academy Sixth Form College

Tariq and Sajid came to visit Amber education London and talked to Tiffany about Cardiff academy sixth form college. Tiffany was very happy to be informed about the college's friendly surroundings and the lovely city of Cardiff. The college has a blend of eastern and western education philosophies. They have incorporated the Eastern view of teaching through implantation of high standard and expectations. They ensure that their students not only exceed; academically, and also develops rounded personalities, enabling them to be prepared for university life and beyond. Which makes the college a truly cosmopolitan atmosphere with students from a wide range of ethnic backgrounds. They have a unique teaching approach, up to 6 hours per week of tuition for core A-level subjects ensuring students receive maximum academic support. Providing bespoke advice and guidance on UCAS and Oxbridge, intensive coaching does interviews and unparalleled advice on personal statement preparation. The small size of classrooms and expert teaching enables individual's student focus learning. For more information on how to apply for Cardiff sixth form college, please contact Tiffany Li our guardian coordinator.
